

Dr. Georgios A. Kougioumtzis holds an L.B. in Classics from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, a Th.B. in Social Theology from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, an M.Ed. in Education Sciences (more specifically, in Adult Education) from the Hellenic Open University, and a Ph.D. in Teacher Mentoring (namely Pedagogics, Teaching Methodology, and Counseling) from the Department of Philosophy, Pedagogy, and Psychology - National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. Furthermore, he holds a Postgraduate Annual Specialization in Educational Technology - ICT from the Piraeus University of Applied Sciences, a Postgraduate Annual Specialization in Learning Difficulties / Dyslexia / Special Needs, from the Department of Special Education - University of Thessaly, a Postgraduate Annual Specialization in Teaching Methodology, and Pedagogical Use of ICT from an Inter-University Cooperation: Department of Philosophy, Pedagogy, and Psychology - National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Digital Systems - University of Piraeus, and the Department of General Pedagogy - Superior School of Pedagogical and Technical Education, and a Postgraduate Annual Specialization in Mentoring, Coaching, and Counseling, from the University of the Aegean. He has published – as scientific editor, and co-author – eleven (11) books by Grigori Publications in the fields of Counseling Psychology and in Teaching Methodology and ICT, and over than hundred sixty (160) papers in Greek and in English. He also has extensive experience in the management and coordination of national and transnational lifelong learning Projects. In addition, G. A. Kougioumtzis' research activities cover the scientific fields of Counseling Psychology, Educational Psychology, and Teaching Methodology and the Pedagogical Use of ICT. He is married and father of three daughters.